

RTI route gives startling information

The petitioners then took the RTI route and stumbled upon startling information.

The LDA had provided a site map which showed that “pond situated on Khasra No.52 of village Vijaipur was shown as low land and which is a part of the land allotted to the HC”. The petitioners said they had made several big builders, including DLF and Parsvnath, parties in their PIL.

But the HC had kept in abeyance the question of issuing notice to the respondents till the LDA filed its response to the PIL. The LDA has not filed its response even after three years.

“This is a well-thought out conspiracy by the LDA to facilitate the ongoing construction and development work on 37 ponds illegally filled up and plotted by the LDA in connivance with builders. The HC has also not passed any effective order so as to subvert the illegal design of the builders and state authorities, including LDA,” the petitioners said.
